SCHOOLS WILL OPEN MONDAY, DECEMBER 2d

Board of Health Lifts Ban on Schools
With Some Restrictions This Morning.

At a meeting of the Board of Health this morning the question of lifting the ban on schools was taken up, and it was decided to allow them to begin work on Monday, December 2d, with some restrictions. No child who has had influenza for ten days previous to the opening, or who comes from a family where the disease has been for ten days previous to December 2d, will be allowed to attend, and the washing out of throats and noses with salt water solution is urged at all times by all children.

The usual Thanksgiving service was allowed to be held by the churches with the usual precautions, and it is now hoped that with proper care the situation will gradually grow better until the disease is entirely eradicated.

The Union Thanksgiving service will be held for adults in the Christian Church on next Thursday morning, 10:30 o'clock. The sermon will be given by Rev. D. D. Baileys of the Baptist Church. This service will be one hour in length.

TOBACCO BUYERS WILL BE HERE

It is now almost a certainty that the big tobacco buyers of this country will have their men ready for the burley markets by December 10th, as the following telegram sent out from Lexington yesterday will show:

"The ten loose leaf tobacco warehouses in Lexington joined in the announcement that the opening of the market there has been deferred from December 3 to December 10. This action was decided on in order to co-operate with large buying interests, who have given positive assurance that we may count on their full support on that day."

Captain Harry Miller of the towboat D. T. Lane yesterday reported a dangerous snag in the river about 200 feet below the government light at Quincy, and pilots are warned to steer to the left or the channel side of the snag.

WAREHOUSES GETTING READY FOR BUSINESS

Tobacco Warehousemen Get Everything Readiness For First Sales—
Many Farmers Stripping.

The Maysville Looseleaf Tobacco Market opens on December 10 and since the Maysville Tobacco Board of Trade has decided on the date of the opening there has been much activity in the tobacco district.

Warehousemen are getting their houses in order for the receipt of the leaf and the first load of the 1918-19 season will now be watched for eagerly. Some of the houses are making improvements and enlargements and this work is being hustled so that everything will be in readiness.

The rains of the first part of the week made it possible for many farmers to bulk a part of their crop for stripping and the process of removing the leaves from the stalk and putting them into "hands" has begun in earnest on many farms. All indications are that there will be a good, big offering for opening day.

SCHOOLS TO MAKE UP TIME LOST IN FLU EPIDEMIC

City Grades Will Have One Hour Extra
Work a Day—High School
Problem Not Yet Solved.

Now that the influenza situation has begun to clear up over the state, the School Superintendents in some eight or ten leading cities have joined with Superintendent Caplinger of the Maysville Public Schools, in solving the big problem of making up the time lost in the school room because of the quarantine of the State Board of Health.

The problem has been a small one. The school officials arranged a questionnaire which was filled out by each and then sent to all so that ideas were thus exchanged.

The Maysville problem has been a hard one to solve but Superintendent Caplinger has reached a solution as to the grades. Under the one session system the grades prior to this year were dismissed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. This year an extra ten minutes were added for physical culture making dismissal time 2:10 p. m. It is now the purpose of the authorities to add fifty minutes a day to the schedule making dismissal time 3 o'clock which is just an hour later than last year's schedule. Time will also be saved on examinations and it is the purpose of Superintendent Caplinger to have his teachers speed up on their work and get down to the kernel of the lesson in each class.

One plan which will likely be adopted here will apply to High School as well as grades and that will be the saving on time on holidays. In the past it has been the custom of the schools to dismiss school when a holiday falls near the end of the week for the balance of the week. This custom will be abandoned and some holidays will not be observed.

Further plans than the holiday plan have not been decided upon for the High School but Superintendent Caplinger will have the entire problem solved and a working system for the teachers mapped out for the re-opening of the schools.

To make up lost time in the county schools, it is more than likely that the teachers will teach two months extra at the close of the term. This has not been decided upon as yet however by County Superintendent Turnipseed and the County Board of Education.

FORMER MAYSVILLE BOY DIES IN PORTSMOUTH

Death at 8 o'clock Thursday morning claimed William C. Rudy, one of Portsmouth's best known painters, who died very unexpectedly at his home in that city. He was taken ill two weeks ago, but his condition did not become serious until Tuesday, when he became much worse. Complications, following an attack of rheumatism, resulted in Mr. Rudy's death.

The deceased was 43 years old last April and in addition to his wife, Mrs. Gertrude Thomas Rudy, he leaves one daughter, Mary, aged 17. He is also survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Rudy of Forest avenue, and two sisters and two brothers: Mrs. Margaret Ashbaugh, of Cincinnati; Miss Jennie Rudy, Mr. Joseph of this city, and Newton, who is with the American army in France.

Mr. Rudy about a year ago was badly hurt in a fall from a house he was painting in Portsmouth, and he never fully recovered from the effects of it. He was well known and liked by everybody and the news of his passing away will be learned of with much sorrow. He was a member of the Painters' Union, the Owls and the Moose Lodge of Portsmouth.

The remains will arrive here Saturday afternoon and be taken to his parent's home on Forest avenue, where the funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, burial in Maysville cemetery.

LOST PART OF CARGO

While coming from Manchester with a John boat load of licker some unknown mariner had a narrow escape. He evidently did not know very much about the condition of things at the dam, and when he made the start through the chute his boat seemed to get the best of his marine knowledge, as it struck the coffer dam, causing a case of beer to go overboard. It was impossible for him to get near enough the precious package in order to recover it, as it was all his "skill" could do to manage the boat sufficient to keep it from going overboard also. Several workmen at the dam saw the accident and hastened to the rescue of licker, which they hooked out and which they enjoyed to the fullest extent. The owner seemed to be glad enough to get out without the lost case, as he went on without making any further effort toward locating it.

Maysville, Ky., November 22, 1918.
Mr. J. W. Edgin, General Agent,
Maysville, Ky.

Dear Sir:
I beg to acknowledge receipt of your Company's check, payment in full under the policy held by my brother, Lieutenant Joseph N. Calvert, who died in France.

The necessary affidavit relative to the claim being furnished you just eight days ago, the manner in which The Mutual Benefit handled the matter so promptly and so satisfactorily is highly commendable.

Very respectfully,
CLINT C. CALVERT,
Administrator.

DIED IN FRANCE

A cablegram to relatives here today announced that Hugh S. Lawwill had died in France of heart failure, caused by an attack of pneumonia. Mr. Lawwill's home was in Indianapolis, from which place he volunteered in the Y. M. C. A. for overseas work and was sent over last summer. He married Miss Nannie Lane of this city, daughter of Mr. I. M. Lane, who with a 15-year-old son survive.

FOOD PRICES TO COME DOWN

Cleveland, Ohio—Food prices will drop, not through the lowering of the cost of labor so much as by lower markets for raw material. This was agreed on by delegates who are attending the annual convention of the American Specialty Manufacturers' association. It was agreed that the reduction would follow the purchase of material after present high-priced stocks are exhausted.

ENOUGH TO MAKE HIM HAPPY

Circuit Judge C. D. Newell is a happy father today. He received a cablegram from his son, Lieutenant Douglas P. Newell, who has been in France with the U. S. Yanks, saying, "Safe through it all." This was indeed good news to his parents and also to his legion of friends here.

GERMAN WARSHIPS LYING UNDER GUARD PRISONERS OF ALLIES

Surrender Without Precedent Followed Program in Every Detail—
20 Miles of Vessels Yielded.

Edinburgh, November 22—Germany as a naval power has ceased to exist. The heart of her mighty fleet—14 ships of the line, seven light cruisers and 50 destroyers—surrendered to an armada of British, American and French vessels, the greatest fighting force that ever stood out to sea.

The minutely detailed programme of submission laid down by the commander of the British fleet was carried out strictly. The German warships, strung out in a single column almost 20 miles long, appeared at the rendezvous at the appointed time and were led into the Fifth and Forth between columns of Allied ships which overlapped the Germans at each end. This morning the enemy craft are anchored in the Fifth, under guard as prisoners.

A surrender on such a gigantic scale has no precedent in naval history.

Lacked Heroism of the Spaniards

Men animated by the spirit of Lawrence's "Don't give up the ship" and Nelson's "England expects every man to do his duty," could not conceive of such an inglorious fate as that to which the great enemy sea force was submitting. An officer exclaimed: "Even the poor old Spaniards, knowing they had not a chance, came out of Santiago."

The German ships were sighted by the Allied columns at 9:20 o'clock docilely following their British pilot, the light cruiser Cardiff, which, with destroyers and other small craft, had ranged ahead of the Allied fleet. The enemy studiously complied with Admiral Beatty's orders and it was well for their own sakes that they did. Every vessel steaming out to meet them flew battle ensigns and was ready for instant action with its men at battle stations and guns in position for the prompt annihilation of the enemy's forces if their mission proved to be other than peaceful. Five American battleships, the New York, Texas, Arkansas, Wyoming and Florida, were prepared to fire every gun in forty seconds after the signal was given by Rear Admiral Hugh Rodman, who said to the correspondent before sailing: "There is not the slightest probability of any trouble."

BONE DRY BILL IS MADE LAW BY THE PRESIDENT

War-time Prohibition Effective July 5,
1919—Permanent, Drys Say Massachusetts Association Will Contest in Courts.

Washington, November 22—The national "bone-dry" prohibition bill, enacted as a war measure, now is a law, President Wilson having affixed his signature to it at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It means that after June 30, next, and until the demobilization of the troops is completed, no intoxicating liquors may be sold for beverage purposes in the United States, except for export.

Dry leaders say this means permanent prohibition, contending that demobilization will take two years, and that in that time the dry amendment to the constitution probably will be ratified by the States.

The manufacture of all intoxicating liquors must stop after May 1, under the bill. This will affect only wine, as the making of whiskey stopped shortly after a state of war was declared, and the brewing of beer has been ordered stopped December 1. According to word from Boston, the new bill will be challenged in the courts, Edward H. Duffy, president of the Massachusetts Liquor Dealers' association, declaring that his organization would begin an action contesting its constitutionality. As the war is ended, he contends there is no constitutional ground for the measure.

Mrs. Ella Haughey has filed suit for divorce in the Mason Circuit Court from Charles Haughey and asks for $5,000 alimony, a general attachment on his property and for all general and proper relief.

LAST DAY FOR VOTING

Saturday is the last day for the Chamber of Commerce members to cast their votes for the nominees for 1919 officers and directors.

Secretary Dadds reports that a few more ballots were received yesterday but a majority of the members have failed to avail themselves of this opportunity to have a voice in the conduct of affairs.

Quite a number of the members expressed their desire for the change of the constitution and by-laws so that each member could vote on the nominee for the several offices instead of appointing a nominating committee.

The newly adopted plan is expensive and requires much time, and if the members do not demonstrate their approval of the plan by sending in their ballots the board of directors would be justified in readopting the old method of election.

The committee in charge of the annual meeting is planning that it shall surpass any previous meeting.

Directors William Traxel and George H. Frank are a committee on the arrangements for the dinner, and they assure us they are preparing an excellent menu.

CHEERFUL NEWS FOR RELATIVES OF SOLDIERS

"If you don't hear bad news about your soldier son this week, you may feel reasonably well assured that he is safe."

That is the message Secretary of War Baker has sent out to all soldiers' relatives through the newspapers. The War Department had ordered the hastening of reports of casualties, and that the lists would be completed by Saturday or Sunday. Deaths from accident, wounds and disease, of course, will continue.

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

WAGES, WORK-HOURS AND THRIFT

The declaration by Samuel Gompers that organized labor will resist to the uttermost any attempt to reduce war-time wages or lengthen hours of labor is one that will be read with interest by all the people of the country, as also will any statement he has to make as to the means by which the present high wages and short hours are to be maintained. To the extent that maintenance of high standards of wages and of conditions of labor are possible. Mr. Gompers will have the cooperation of the Republicans of the country. The Republican party has always endeavored to maintain an economic policy which makes possible the payment of the highest wages, and the observance of the shortest hours, and we believe the records will show that in time of peace American labor has been better paid under Republican policies than under those imposed by the Democratic party. It is perhaps true that, on an average, hours of labor have been shortest under a Democratic administration, for in 1893 and 1913-14 millions of American working men found their hours of labor cut to nothing at all.

Having made his declaration regarding continued high wages and short hours, Mr. Gompers should explain specifically how he expects to secure and preserve a market for the product of high wages and short hours in competition with the product of low wages and long hours from Europe and Asia. Republicans hope to maintain the home market for American producers. They hope that we shall be able to sell our surplus in the markets we have gained during the war. We hope to accomplish this through a protective tariff which will build up our home production to such a high quantitative basis that our unit cost of production will be low, thus enabling us to sell the surplus in competition with all the rest of the world. That is a specific statement of the methods by which Republicans would maintain high wages and short hours for American labor. Now will Mr. Gompers state specifically his plan for enabling American labor to market its productions in competition with the rest of the world, for we must have a market for our products or we can have no satisfactory standard of wages and conditions of labor.

UNCLE SAM'S POLICE FORCE

Keeping order in Europe, now that the war is ended, is going to be the biggest police job this old world has ever known. But it will have to be done.

For there are about 10,000,000 fellows scattered about the continent right now who have acquired the fighting habit these last five years. They were getting tired of the big game before it ended, but this doesn't mean that they would hesitate to mix it up over their own little differences.

Take the Balkans, for instance. They have been a hotbed of disturbance for years. The immediate pretext for this war developed there. And their old-time animosities and jealousies have not been wiped out by their recent experiences. They are liable to flare out again at any moment.

Then there is the big question of Russia. There are millions of former serfs still drunk with the wine of new-found freedom. They have pillaged and plundered and killed without restraint for months. The whole nation is still seething. And order must be restored there before any permanent and rational government can be established.

And just what Turkey will have to offer to the complication of affairs in general is yet to be developed.

There are some pretty long beats to be patrolled in this police job. It's a long, long way from Vladivostok to Petrograd. From Petrograd to Bagdad, and from the Holy Land to that near neighbor of hell, Berlin.

It looks like a big lot of Uncle Sam's soldier boys might be kept in Europe for many months to come. And they will have to be maintained adequately.

Inevitably it means another Liberty Loan, at least. It may mean two. In any event it means that we must get ready to buy more bonds.

All the billions Mr. McAdoo proposes to spend during the first year or two or peace may be in form absolutely necessary. But the people will require the utmost openness and understanding in order to become reconciled to this expenditure. Let their be light as we proceed.

The captains of the U-boats. it is said, fear to return home. And much more to run in anywhere else.

ANNUAL MEETING OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Chamber of Commerce Will Hold Its Annual Meeting Tuesday Evening
 For the Purpose of Electing
 Officers and Directors.

The annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held on the first Tuesday evening in December, at which time the election of officers and directors for the next year will take place.

At a recent meeting of the membership, a new plan was adopted in making the voting policy of the organization more democratic. The Secretary was instructed to send to each member, a list of the members of the Chamber of Commerce, together with a nomination ballot and referendum, also a stamped envelope for the return of the nomination ballot and referendum.

By a recent amendment to the constitution, each member is to cast his vote for the nomination of each officer and director on nomination ballot, and offer any suggestions relative to the activities he feels should be participated in by the organization next year, on the referendum.

These referendums and nomination blanks must be returned to the Chamber of Commerce by next Saturday, and they will be tallied at the meeting of the Board of Directors next Monday. The two nominees for each office, receiving the largest number of votes, will be declared nominees for that office, and ballots will be printed containing their names and distributed among the members at the annual meeting. They will be expected to cast their vote for the nominee they desire to be elected to the different offices.

The Board of Directors are very much disappointed in the way the ballots have been received. Out of almost 400 ballots mailed to the members, only twenty have been received at the Chamber of Commerce up until Wednesday afternoon. Every member owes it to himself, to take advantage of this opportunity to participate in the nomination. Remember that all nominations must be received at the Chamber of Commerce by this Saturday, November 23rd.

PROTECT WOOLENS FROM CLOTHES MOTH

Experiments by the Bureau of Entomology, United States Department of Agriculture, have demonstrated that naphthalene is uniformly effective in protecting wooleens from clothes-moths infestation and in killing all stages of the insect.

A red-cedar chest readily killed all adult moths and showed considerable killing effect upon young larvae. It did not prevent the hatching of eggs, but killed all the resulting larvae almost immediately.

Red-cedar chips and shavings, while not entirely effective in keeping the adult moths from laying eggs on the flannel treated, appeared to protect it from appreciable damage when used liberally.

Varying results were obtained from experiments with other exterminators of moths. The experiments are described in Bulletin 707. "Results of Experiments with Miscellaneous Substances against Bedbugs, Cockroaches, Clothes Moths, and Carpet Beetles." Copies of the bulletin may be procured from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., at 5 cents a copy.

FOOD CONSERVATION

Park—There have been a good many changes in geographies since I went to school.

Wood—I suppose so.

"That's so; we usually speak of them as the Hawaiian Islands now."

"I wonder why they took away the 'Sandwich'."

"I don't know but I'll bet a cookie it had something to do with the food conservation movement." — Youngstown Telegram.

GREAT MID-WINTER FARM FESTIVAL

The Best Farmers From All Parts of Kentucky to Assemble At Lexington, January 28

The most successful and progressive men in all lines of business have their associations or other organizations which meet periodically to discuss topics related to their common welfare. Farmers are no exception to this rule for they have learned that it is to their advantage to have local, county, state and national organizations which have accomplished many things looking to the betterment of all.

In Kentucky, the leading farmers and breeders have more or less naturally fallen into groups, according to the special line of farming in which they are most interested. Among these organizations the following stand out prominently: Kentucky Corn Growers' Association, Kentucky Sheep Breeders' Association, State Horticultural Society, Kentucky Alfalfa Growers' Association, Kentucky Dairy Cattle Club, Horse, Jack and Mule Breeders' Association, Kentucky Poultry Growers' Association and the Kentucky Beekeepers' Association.

The various organizations co-operate with each other, holding their annual conventions at the same place and all during the same week. This general meeting of the Kentucky farmers and breeders takes place every winter at the Agricultural College of the University of Kentucky and is attended not only by the membership of the associations themselves, but also by nearly all of the best farmers in the State. Many of these organizations, such as the corn growers, dairymen, etc., have competitive shows of their products.

This great mid-winter farm festival has been set to meet on January 28, 29, 30 and 31st, at Lexington, and in spite of the war conditions promises to be the largest gathering since this movement began eight years ago, as farmers have long since learned that they can scarcely afford to miss it. Each farmers' organization will have its own program and the professors of the Agricultural College will assist with lectures and demonstrations.

PREPARE NOW FOR HYACINTHS AND NARCISSUS WHEN THE GROUND IS WHITE.

Now is the time to prepare to have blooming bulbous plants in the house during the winter. Hyacinths and the various narcissi are especially satisfactory for this purpose. These bulbs are likely to be scarce and high this year, but a few for home decoration when the ground is white with snow will repay some expense and effort.

The essentials for growing bulbs indoors are that they shall become permitted to grow. This is done by planting the bulbs in suitable soil, either in pots or what florists know as "pans," which are shallow pots, or in boxes. The soil should be light, but retentive of moisture. A rich, light, garden soil is excellent. A heavy garden soil may be used if mixed with an equal amount of sand or with equal parts sand and woods earth.

The planted bulbs then are placed in a cool place in the dark for a period of two to six or eight weeks, or even longer if desired. They should be left there until the roots are well started. In the case of bulbs planted in pots the pots may be inverted and gently tapped, when the bulb and soil will come out in a mass. When the bulbs have been sufficiently long in the pots the earth in the bottoms of the pot will be completely covered with rootlets. The bulbs should then be brought into a slightly warmer place with some light for three or four days and then gradually brought into greater warmth and full light. During all the period of growth the ground should be kept moist without being water-soaked.

Narcissus takes about five weeks to develop from the time it is brought into full light. Hyacinths take a longer time, and tulips about the same time as hyacinths. The Roman hyacinths come in a little less time, while the paper white narcissus takes only about four weeks. It is hard to hold the paper white narcissus for late winter. Hyacinths are hard to bring into bloom before February. The various forms of the yellow narcissus can be brought into bloom from December until the time for outdoor blooms by starting the bulbs early in the fall and bringing them into the light at intervals of a week or ten days. For the earliest bloom it is desirable to get the bulbs started as soon as the first of October, and all of the bulbs should be planted before the middle of November.

Tulips are difficult to get to flower, but it may be done by February or March by special care and attention. It is best to place the pots or pans in a box and cover the whole pot with at least 2 inches of additional soil or ashes, and leave them there until the bud has pushed clear above the pot, otherwise the bloom will be strangled in attempting to get out of the bulbs.

Instead of placing in the cellar, the pots and boxes containing all these bulbs may be buried in the open ground, the receptacles being covered with at least 4 inches of soil. If the ground is apt to freeze hard, then a heavy coating of manure should be added as soon as the first crust freezes over the bulbs. This layer of manure will prevent their freezing and will permit the bulbs to be removed to the house from time to time as needed.

Hyacinths, paper white narcissus, and especially the Chinese sacred lily are frequently grown in water. Special glasses for these bulbs may be purchased, in which they may be successfully grown, or they may be placed in any attractive dish and supported by pebbles. The water should be kept so that it touches the bottom of the bulb.

Undoubtedly many mowing machines have been or are about to be scrapped, though still capable of doing several years of useful work if only a small percentage of their original cost were expended upon them for repairs. The proper time for overhauling these machines is during their period of inactivity and before the rush of spring work.

NATIONAL AGRICULTURAL ADVISORY BOARD SPEAKS

Governor H. C. Stuart, chairman of the National Agricultural Advisory Board, recently gave out the following important interview:

"The present and continuing demand of the world on the United States for meats, carries an impressive lesson in the value of live stock improvement. Had we not introduced throughout the country pure bred sires, the product of pure bred herds and flocks, thereby multiplying many times the weight and quality of our meat-producing animals, we would have been unable to supply a recognized essential in winning the war. The International Live Stock Exposition, held each year during the first week in December, has for a number of years played an important and leading part in the campaign for a universal spread of live stock improvement. It is at once an educational institution and an inspiration in a field of ever-increasing importance. The best of all domestic animals meet there for final appraisal in a fair and generous contest for supremacy, but as between different beef breeds and as between different specimens of the same breed. There the standards of excellence are fixed by actual demonstration, and thus the essential lessons in breeding are made annually available to the thousands of flockmasters throughout the country. On behalf of the National Agricultural Advisory Committee, and on my own behalf as a breeder and producer of live stock, I wish to endorse the 'International' unreservedly, to commend it for the great work which it has done and is now doing, and to express the hope that the attendance at the forthcoming exhibition may be such as to give fresh assurance that the breeders and feeders of the country are alive to the weighty responsibilities which rest upon them, not only as factors in supplying the needs of war, but as holders of the blood reserve from which the wasted herds of other lands may be built up in the approaching days of peace."

ENGLISH FARMERS NEED LABOR RECRUITS

Farmers in England have lately expressed the opinion that they have rather a hard row to hoe, as a result of the great demands of the war. The labor supply of the island had been hard hit by conscription, but the Women's Land Army has given excellent service.

Recently the government commandeered some of the best wheat land in England for the erection of a great war plant. So urgently was the new plant needed that soldiers in khaki were put to work tearing up the ground and throwing the wheat crop aside to rot. The farmers protested at first, but were informed that the other needs of the government were even greater than the need for the wheat crop. The farmers, despite their difficulties, have given the government splendid support.

A ton of sugar came has produced from 119 to 151 pounds of refined sugar in Louisiana in recent years. The sugar product of a ton of beets has been 210 to 285 pounds.

DANGER OF REVOLUTION IN HOLLAND IS GONE

Socialist Leader Repudiates Violent Methods—Order Is Maintained—Extremists Are Said to Be in a Hopeless Minority.

Rotterdam, November 21—There is no revolution in Holland, nor is there likely to be. Peter J. Trielstra, the Socialist leader, speaking to a great labor congress here, at which 1,538 trades unions and labor organizations were represented, not only repudiated violent methods, but admitted that his earlier bellicose utterances had resulted in a misunderstanding of his position. Extremists who would introduce Bolshevism, are in a hopeless minority in Holland. Soldiers and civic and labor societies desire reform, but by lawful methods. Small outbreaks occurred recently as a result of warstrained nerves. There was an overwhelming response to the call for civic guards to maintain order. Apparently reading the signs of the times, the government will give attention to the labor programme. Its appeal to the people not to jeopardize chances of obtaining food supplies from the Allies by domestic violence has been a powerful deterrent to those who might have caused trouble. No disturbances were reported anywhere last night.

AGENT STARTS SORGHUM MILL

The county agent in Buena Vista County, Iowa, found a way to handle the sorghum crop after the growers had given up the problem because of the labor scarcity. The agent, located an old horsepower crusher about 4 miles from Storm Lake. With the help of a retired farmer he brought it to a vacant lot where water and gas connections could be obtained from the city. A shed of rough timber was erected and a water pipe put in from a near-by house. Gas was also piped so that it could be used for cooking and save labor. The mill is now in operation, and several tons of sorghum cane have been ground. Smaller mills are taking care of sorghum in other parts of the county.

Rice varieties are changing places in popularity among growers. The Honduras and Louisiana Pearl varieties are losing, and the Blue Rose, Japan, and Early Profile are gaining, according to the Bureau of Crop Estimates.

A POPULAR VERDICT

Based on Evidence of Maysville People.

Grateful thousands tell of—Of weak backs made strong—Of weak kidneys made well—Of urinary disorders corrected. Maysville people add their testimony.

They praise Doan's Kidney Pills. Maysville evidence is now complete.

Maysville testimony is confirmed; Reports of early relief substantiated.

Merit doubly proved by test of time. Let a Maysville citizen speak.

Fred Dresel, tailor and justice of the peace, 1238 East Second Street, says: "I was troubled by inflammation of the bladder and annoyance from my kidneys. The kidney secretions burned in passage and often were retarded. I had severe pains across the small of my back which greatly interfered with my work. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Wood & Son's Drug Store, gave me prompt relief."

Mr. Dresel gave the above statement on February 5, 1908, and on November 14, 1916, he added: "I have had the same faith in Doan's Kidney Pills to-day as ever, for I haven't had any trouble with my kidneys since I last recommended them."

Mr. Dresel is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mr. Dresel had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60c at all stores. NIGHT SCHOOL MAY BE OPENED IN THIS CITY

Workmen of Commercial World Are Promoting Opening a Night
School in Maysville.

The educational division, composed of Superintendent Caplinger, of the city schools, and Superintendent Turnipseed, of the county school; Frank P. O'Donnell and Rev. J. J. Dickey, met at the Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon to consider certain educational questions as applied to Maysville and Mason county.

This committee received word from the United States Educational Commissioner Claxton, inquiring as to whether there had been any co-ordination of effort between the public schools and Chamber of Commerce.

Superintendent Caplinger informed him that on several occasions they had co-operated in improving the educational conditions and at present he was serving as chairman of the educational division of this organization, and that the educational division had been considering some means to bridge the chasm existing between the period when the student finishes high school and enters the commercial or industrial world.

At the meeting held recently a number of requests for a night school were considered and a chairman of each city precinct was appointed to make a survey of the situation in their precinct, to find if the demand justifies a night course for commercial students.

These chairmen met with the educational division Thursday afternoon and formulated plans for the survey. They will have workers make a house to house canvass next week and obtain the desired information.

If there appears a sufficient demand for a night course it will be presented to the board of education at the next meeting.

STATE-WIDE FOOD MEET AT LOUISVILLE TODAY

Herbert Hoover Sends a Personal Representative—Plan For Feeding Europe and Preventing Profiteering to Be Made During Two Days Sessions.

Louisville, November 22 — County food administrators, district food administrators and county chairmen from all over Kentucky began to arrive in Louisville late today for the two day conference which will be held Friday and Saturday preliminary to World Relief Week. The conference will be the biggest gathering of work leaders yet held in the South, and will be attended by R. W. Boyden, a prominent Massachusetts lawyer, who will bring a personal message from Mr. Hoover.

More than 100 of the county chairmen of women's food organizations, and practically all of the county food administrators, have already wired Federal Food Administrator Fred M. Sackett their intention of attending and have made reservations at the Seelbach Hotel, where the conference sessions will be held.

Two things will be considered at the conference—the international food plan for the world reconstruction period, especially during the next twelve months, and means for preventing profiteering in America, which more than ever will be the world's larder. The immediate purpose of the conference is that the county chairmen and administrators may secure information and inspiration to take back home and disseminate during World Relief Week.

At Friday's session of the conference addresses will be made by Mr. Boyden; Federal Food Administrator Fred M. Sackett, District Food Administrator William H. Kaye, State Director T. R. Moss and various departmental heads. A buffet luncheon will be served in the conference hall at 1 o'clock and at evening those in attendance will be dinner guests of Mr. Sackett. The dinner will be served at the regular supper hour, thus avoiding the waste which would attend upon a banquet at a later hour of the evening, and will be strictly a conservation affair.

On Saturday afternoon the food leaders of the entire State will march in the great victory parade which Louisville has planned, and will head the procession.

World Relief Week will open Sunday with the reading of Mr. Hoover's conservation message in every church in Kentucky. This message will also be read during the week in every lodge. Tuesday will be Community World Relief Day, when food rallies will be held in every city ward and county district—in every community, in short, where sufficient people live to form an audience. Exercises will be held by women's clubs Wednesday and in all the schools Friday. The week's exercises will end with county rallies Saturday morning and afternoon.

PERRY COUNTY OFFICIALS SEVERELY CRITICISED

Officers Reported As Not Giving Proper Attention to Their Duties.

Frankfort, Ky.—Public officers in Perry county are conducted in a very unsatisfactory manner, according to State Inspector and Examiner Nat B. Sewell who reported to a total of $2,327.27 which he says is due the State upon examination of the offices made by Assistant State Inspector Alvin Steger.

He collected from Circuit Clerk W. C. Combs, $212.93; from Sheriff J. R. Combs, $269.85, and from ex-Sheriff A. B. Combs, $265.40. Besides amounts paid by them there remains due the State, according to the report, from County Clerk B. P. Combs $1,807.50, from former County Judge E. C. Duff, $113.18; from Jailer R. C. Baker, $103.50; from former Jailer James Holliday, $291.80; from Chester Duff, trustee of the jury fund, $12, and $3.60 from magistrates.

"Officers are not giving proper attention to their duties or keeping a correct record of their acts," he said. He compliments the Circuit Clerk's office, but the clerk is "seriously handicapped by the lack of co-operation of the Sheriff, Jailer and trustee of the jury fund. The Sheriff fails to make prompt returns, on processes; the Jailer discharges prisoners with or without legal authority without reporting to him, and the trustee maintains his residence in Lexington. The Commonwealth's Attorney is lax in prosecuting the collection of fines and forfeitures."

Mr. Sewell thinks that after the Commonwealth's Attorney receives his part of the fines he should be just as active for the benefits of the State.

The Sheriff and his predecessor are "competent and fearless men." Mr. Sewell said, "but it is found to be not only true in Perry, but in a large number of other counties, that the principal function of the Sheriff is to 'play politics.' He can either fine or not fine a violator of the law, collect or not collect an execution, just as it suits his political purpose."

"In one instance the ex-Sheriff returned a capias against his own deputy 'not found.'"

"Upon examination of the records of the County Clerk the examiner found that the clerk had practically abandoned the office and has left its administration to a deputy. The records in this office show that the clerk has failed utterly to make proper reports to the Auditor and has continually neglected to remit money due the State."

Recommendations made for the improvement of the County Judge's office in 1916 were not carried out, and he ran the affairs of his office with the same negligence and lack of business methods until the end of his term.

In one instance he sought to override the order of the Circuit Judge, directing the Circuit Clerk refuse to certify any misdemeanor indictments to the County Judge for trial. The Circuit Clerk, obeying the order, was held in contempt and placed in jail by the County Judge.

"The present Judge went into office January 7, 1918, but the examiner cannot upon this examination say that any marked improvement has been shown in the administration of this office. The County Judge fully accounted for all money due but is assuming in the conduct of his office some of high-handed methods employed by his predecessor."

Mention then is made of the fact that by order of the County Judge the jailer released a prisoner, sentenced to ten days and a $100 fine in Circuit Court, before the fine had been served out.

"In respect to the records and accounts of the ex-jailer it appears that the administration of this office has been the result of either incompetency or wilful disregard of the law," said Mr. Sewell, who said, it was a "common practice for the ex-jailer to release certain prisoners upon the order of the County Judge."

"These orders show that the prisoners were released 'under guard on account of bad health,' and in some instances the prisoners escaped under guard."

The present jailer, Mr. Sewell said, promised that he would discontinue following this precedent.

Am hoping to be home before long.

You had better address your letters to G. Co. 26 Inf. for I won't be here long enough to receive an answer from you.
